DETAILED ACTION

Reissue Applications

1. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.175(b)(1), a supplemental reissue oath/declaration under 37 CFR 1.175(b)(1) must be received before this reissue application can be allowed.

Claims 31-34 are rejected as being based upon a defective reissue Declaration under 35 U.S.C. 251. See 37 CFR 1.175. The nature of the defect is set forth above.

Receipt of an appropriate supplemental oath/declaration under 37 CFR 1.175(b)(1) will overcome this rejection under 35 U.S.C. 251. An example of acceptable language to be used in the supplemental oath/declaration is as follows:

"Every error in the patent which was corrected in the present reissue application, and is not covered by a prior oath/declaration submitted in this application, arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the applicant."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 18 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support in the original disclosure of the printer applying a printed message perpendicular to the backbone.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 3651

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 26 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 26 recites the limitation "the printer". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 16, 21, 25, 27, 28, 31, 32, and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Osako et al. in view of Meier. Osako discloses a binding line (117) for gathering a plurality of signatures (301) to form a book that includes a plurality of packer boxes (119, 124), and a feeder system associated with the packer boxes including a conveyor (111) having an output end and a plurality of feeders (113). Osako discloses all the limitations of the claims, but it does not disclose a controller to activate the feeders (113). However, Meier discloses a device for gathering signatures (see col. 1, line 20) that includes a plurality of packer boxes (12), a feeder system (2-5) associated with the packer boxes and a controller (14), that activates a selected one of the feeders at a time, in communication with a feeder for the purpose of determining the degree of filling of a packer box and controlling the supply speeds of the of the feeder system accordingly. It would have been obvious for a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to modify Osako by utilizing a controller that activates a selected one of the feeders at a time, as disclosed by Meier, for the purpose of determining the degree of filling of a packer box and controlling the supply speeds of the of the feeder system accordingly.

8. Claims 17-20, 22-24, 26, 29-30, and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Osako et al. in view of Meier as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Harris, Jr. et al. Osako and Meier together disclose all the limitations of the claims, but the combination does not disclose that the feeder system includes a printer, at the output end of the conveyor, in communication with the controller. However, Harris, Jr. discloses a feeder system for a packer box (118) that includes a printer (40), at the output end of a feeder conveyor (12), in communication with a controller (22), for the purpose of printing a predetermined message on a signature (see col. 9, lines 20-22). I would have been obvious for a person of ordinary skill in the art, at the time of the applicant's invention to utilize a printer, at the output end of the conveyor, in communication with the controller, as disclosed by Harris, Jr., for the purpose of printing a predetermined message on a signature.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 1-15 are allowed.
